Narbert Watkins Sinks To End In River.

WENT UNDER IN VIEW OF HELPLESS BROTHER.

TWO SNATCHED FROM WATERY GRAVES.

MADE DESPERATE STRUGGLES.

Narbert Watkins, aged 30 years, a painter, was suddenly seized with the cramps and drowned before companions could reach him, a short distance below the bridge at the foot of the river. His body was not recovered until yesterday afternoon. His brother, John Watkins, who lives at 11th and Hill streets, rode the log raft a distance down the river, while Marie Watkins, a brother of the drowned youth, and William Guthrie, a cousin, walked along the bank with their companions wearing apparel.

Sank In Brother's Sight.

The log was near the mouth of Paddy's Run Creek and about twenty feet from shore, when Smith told his friends on the log that he believed he was going to suffer an attack of the cramps, and hastily scrambled to the water, making for the shore. His friends, however, did not reach the river's bank in safety, when they were started by the log raft, which was in the water and shouting for help. He went down for the last time before his friends could reach him. He immediately Guthrie hurried to the residence of Clem A. Kramer, at Beech street, where the body of the drowned youth was placed. The lifeless body was recovered from the water just above the Big Four bridge. It was with difficulty that the body was managed to pull him into their skiff, as it was whirling about in the swiftly-flowing river. Guthrie recovered him and he was taken to the residence of the family, where he was found to have been suffocated. PULLED OUT IN TIME.

John Donahue Saved From Watery Grave.

After battling against the strong currents that carried him down the Ohio for several miles while he kept himself afloat by holding on to his upturned skiff with one hand, John Donahue, aged 50, a fisherman, was rescued from his perilous position by the timely arrival of Hank Hancock, engineer at Walter's brewery, at 1130 1/2 creek yesterday morning. Donahue was struggling with the water just above the Big Four bridge. It was with difficulty that the body was managed to pull him into their skiff, as it was whirling about in the swiftly-flowing river. Guthrie recovered him and he was taken to the residence of the family, where he was found to have been suffocated. Miss Bottorff became acquainted with her future husband while attending school at Lexington and on seeking the consent of her parents to be married, was denied. Her diploma in her possession, a few weeks ago, Miss Bottorff communicated with Mr. Hardesty to the effect that she was ready, and the two met at Lexington by appointment yesterday afternoon after Miss Bottorff had driven away from Lexington.

The bride's father is a wealthy farmer of Scott, Ky. D. L. Hardesty, the father of the happy groom, was formerly the State Revenue Agent and is well known throughout Kentucky. Immediately after the ceremony last night, the news of the wedding was telegraphed to both homes.

TRUE OPTIMISM

The Only Key To Realm of Contentment.

DR. W. W. LANDRUM PREACHES STRONG SERMON.

UNHAPPY EXPERIENCES MAKE WOMAN MORE BEAUTIFUL.

CHRISTIANS PUT TO THE TEST.

Genuine optimism, the kind advocated by the Rev. Dr. W. W. Landrum, pastor of the Broadway Baptist church, in his sermon last night, is the key that will open and cause to swing back the iron door of mental incomprehensibility so that those without can enter the realm of contentment. The Rev. Dr. Landrum's subject was "Fighting Trouble Into the Past." His text was taken from the Bible relating to the Apostle Paul, telling how he came an adder into the fire from his hand after having been bitten. The sermon contained many brilliant truths pertaining to the life and affairs of humanity.

During his sermon Dr. Landrum said:

Woman Made Beautiful.
"No woman has ever become perfectly beautiful until she has become transformed by unhappy experiences into an angel of mercy."

Continuing, he said:
"Trouble is a great educator. It teaches men and women to appreciate the good that is in life when it is their portion and makes of them better Christians. No man or woman can play until he has had trouble. You can see sorrow's touch in the grandest painting; you can see it in the face of the sweetest song and you can realize its power in the mightiest argument."

The Rev. Dr. Landrum opened his sermon by declaring every cup in life contains both bitter and sweet. He said that all men have their share of life, Christians especially, and that there is a purpose in putting his children to the test.

Put To Test.

"Christians must understand that they will be tried. They are, in fact, forewarned to expect trouble and to be prepared for the test. The true Christian will not become wholly discouraged when the day of test arrives, but will stand up courageously until the ordeal has been passed."

In this vein the Rev. Dr. Landrum said that the world is full of trouble and men when they get into trouble. This, however, is wrong, for all men who stumble are not altogether bad. On the other hand, he declared, it is not always meted out to the wicked in this world. Guilty men often go unpunished here, but they must give an account of themselves when they die.

God Will Protect.
Assurance was given his hearers by Dr. Landrum that God will protect and care for his children if they will be patient and bear their trials with fortitude. He said:
"The Lord never fails to deliver his people. Whatever trouble comes to the Lord can and will deliver you at the right time. He will deliver many in this life and all the faithful ones in death. The Lord does not forsake his followers to suffering without a purpose in view; He uses the troubles of life to increase their influence and power."

MANY DELEGATES

LEAVE LOUISVILLE FOR ASHLAND, KY., THIS MORNING.

To Attend Meeting of General Association of Baptists, Which Begins Wednesday.

In large numbers members of the local Baptist church are about to depart for Ashland, Ky., at 3:30 o'clock this morning to attend the annual meeting of the General Association of Baptists, an organization embracing Baptist churches and churches of the State. Between seventy-five and one hundred delegates will be present from the churches of Louisville at the convention, which will be convened at Ashland Wednesday morning.

The Louisville delegates, according to official announcements, will leave here this morning in order to be present at the preliminary meetings scheduled for to-day and to-morrow.

Although the important part of the Ashland meeting will not be reached for two days, the meeting will be of great importance, leading up to the opening of the general assembly will attract some interest. All the ministers here and from other churches in the State will hold meetings, while the educational societies will get together to discuss plans looking toward the year's richer harvest from the field in which they are working.

Probably the feature of the annual meeting of the general assembly will be the election of a new moderator to succeed the Rev. Dr. W. D. Nowlin, of Madison, Ky. This matter will come up about Thursday, and will probably be decided by the delegates' vote.

The program of the meeting provides for reports from the Educational Society, Laymen's Movement, Woman's Missionary Union, and the State Board of Christian Education.

The annual meeting is scheduled to last three days, beginning Wednesday morning, therefore the delegates and visitors from Louisville will hardly return home before Friday night.

SIGEL DENIES BODY OF ELSIE

ters were taken to police headquarters, but their text was given out.

Crime Due to Jealousy.

The finding of the letters from Elsie to Chu Gain simplifies the case in the minds of the police so far as motive is concerned. In a nutshell, it is reduced to one theory, that is that Elsie Sigel was killed by Leon Ling through jealousy. She had been friendly with both men and Chu Gain had been anonymously threatened that both he and the girl would be killed. While Chu Gain continues stolid, the police believe that he knows more about the case than he has told.

Two Chinamen Answering Descriptions of Wanted Men There Friday Morning.

Chicago, June 20.—Information was given to the police here to-day that two Chinamen who are wanted in connection with the murder of Elsie Sigel, the Chinese laundry worker, had been seen in Chicago.

W. J. Conley, an employee of the Parnell Company, of this city, said that two Chinamen answering the description of William Lee and Shun Sin arrived at the Grand Central station here over the Baltimore and Ohio railroad from Washington at 8:45 last Friday morning. They departed Conley said, immediately for St. Paul over the Wisconsin Central railroad.

Conley told the police that the men had tickets over the Canadian Pacific railroad to Vancouver, B. C., but that they refused to allow him to check their baggage, which consisted of two trunks. One of the Chinamen, who was well dressed, traveled first class, while his companion traveled second class.

Detectives were assigned to gather further details and the New York police were notified.

Police Raid "Thirst Parlors" and Bootleggers.

LIQUID EVIDENCE STACKED HIGH AT STATIONS.

STRENUOUS EFFORTS MADE TO CLAMP DOWN LID.

CHARGES OF PERSECUTION.

The police spent a busy Sunday rounding up saloonkeepers and others alleged to have been drawing liquid refreshment through the "lid." Six saloons and two bootleggers fell before the onslaught of the blunders. The heat is not responsible for the alleged cracks. Each of the eight cases seems with human interest episode. After knocking the place under the surveillance for about three hours yesterday afternoon, Corp. Ferguson and police of the Seventh police district arrested Mike Fallon, proprietor of a saloon at Twelfth and Broadway, on a charge of violating the Sunday-closing law. George Kinney, the bartender, was also taken into custody on similar charge. Detectives Peak and Moore saw Fallon standing in front of his saloon about noon yesterday. Detectives Peak alleges he heard someone on the inside of the saloon knock on the door. Detective Moore hurried to the place across the street to call out some patrolman to come to the scene, while Detective Peak rushed to the rear of the saloon in time, he says, to see two men escaping from the building. Corp. Ferguson and five patrolmen were stationed about the building until 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

At this time Maj. Burke and Capt. Meyers arrived on the scene, and the police began to search the place. Fallon's residence and the entire building, but they found nothing. Fallon says both he and his wife were in the saloon, and that the "lid" was not off at the saloon yesterday. Even the police seemed to think they were mistaken. The men were released, but they received instructions from Maj. Burke. Capt. Meyers made the arrest, which they did. Kinney and Fallon were both released on bond.

Stoll and Clark Nab Six.

Patrolmen Stoll and Clark, attired in their everyday clothes, walked about the Third police district yesterday searching for alleged tins in the "lid." As a result of their "sleuthing" they are credited with the arrest of two alleged offenders. About 10 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Stoll and Clark, who were patrolling the place of W. H. Miller, who conducts a saloon at 121 South Twelfth street. The two men were found in a room on the second floor above the saloon. A clear record of playing cards was found, as well as a basket of pint bottles of whisky, said to have been found at the place, is some particular evidence.
